This density map of foreclosures in St. Louis County and City shows the location of each foreclosure in 2003. The location is converted into a “heat map” that indicates the density of foreclosures, showing the areas with the greatest number. The highest density of foreclosures is in the south-eastern portion of the City of St. Louis, with a significant number of foreclosures in north St. Louis City and in the North County area.